A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly, bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.—W. T. Brooks

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boche's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottle, 25c; large size, 75c. At all druggists.—W. T. Brooks

NEW ERA IN RUSSIA.

The Czar May Grant His Subjects a Constitution.

The Zemstvo Memorial Presented to Him and He Was Deeply Impressed With the Contents of the Document.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 26.—The unexpected may happen after all. The meeting of the Zemstvoists, "First Russian Congress," as it is now called, may indeed work the inauguration of a new era for Russia. Emperor Nicholas, the initiator of the plan for universal disarmament, may turn back upon the reactionaries and crown his reign by granting to his subjects the constitution which his grandfather had already prepared when he fell by the hand of an assassin.

The basis of such a possibility is the significant fact that late Friday afternoon the emperor received in the palace at Tsarskoe-Selo, M. Shipoff, of Moscow; M. Petrunkevitch, of Tver; M. Rodzianko, of Ekaterinoslav, and Count Heiden, four prominent members of the Zemstvo congress, and listened at length to their views. It develops that when Minister of Interior Sviatopolk-Mirsky presented the Zemstvo memorial and resolutions on November 24 the emperor was so deeply impressed as well by the contents of the documents as by the character of the signers and that he immediately expressed a desire to personally receive a deputation of four.

The Zemstvoists therefore went to Tsarskoe-Selo by imperial command. At their audience, it is understood they explained fully their position and reiterated the views expressed by the memorial that the salvation of the empire from ruin by revolution lay in the adoption of the general ideas expressed in the memorial. The emperor was greatly impressed by what he heard and asked many questions. While it is understood that he gave no indication of his purposes except the sympathy he displayed, the deputation, when they returned to St. Petersburg, were in high spirits.

The news that the delegation had been given an audience by the emperor spread like wildfire through the city Friday night and created a tremendous sensation, rejoicing among liberals and amazement among the uncompromising supporters of the old regime.

Earlier in the day the report was current an immediate effect of the Zemstvo meeting would likely be the realization of the plan for giving two elected Zemstvo representatives seats in the council of the empire.

One of the prominent liberals who participated in the congress declined to share in the jubilation of some of his colleagues, and expressed the opinion that victory was yet a long way off, although he said he believed it was sure to come in the end. He pointed out that the declaration in the memorial in favor of the abrogation of special privileges and for the equality of all classes before the law when it became known throughout Russia was bound to appeal strongly to the peasantry. "All the members of the congress," said he, "are large landed proprietors. A leveling process which would put the Mujik on an equality with them must be prejudicial to their personal interests. In no other country in the world except Russia would find men anxious to make sacrifices for an altruistic ideal."

GEN. CHAFFEE'S REPORT.

He Suggests the Disfranchisement of Deserters From the Army.

Washington, Nov. 26.—Lieut. Gen. Chaffee, chief of staff of the United States army, in his annual report says in his opinion little general legislation is needed at this time. He says sufficient time has not elapsed since the reorganization of the army to determine wisely what legislation is necessary. He suggests the enactment of state laws disfranchising deserters from the army, adding:

"If all states and territories should by law withhold from deserters exercise of the right to vote at national, state and municipal elections, unless the act of desertion be atoned for by lawful discharge, subsequently earned by service, it seems probable that the most healthful remedy practicable would be applied to the evil and that the result would be surprisingly great."

The general says that inquiry of men in guard houses on his tour of inspection elicited no special reason for desertion, the general reply being that army life was not what had been anticipated. Gen. Chaffee believed the adoption of his suggestion would relieve military prisons of two-thirds of their occupants.

The report urges the re-establishment of recruiting depots at Fort Slocum, Columbus barracks and Jefferson barracks.

At present there are something over 1,700 general prisoners at army posts and the post guard houses are "Simply crowded to an unsanitary limit." Additional prison facilities on the Indianapolis military reservation are specifically recommended. A number of extracts from the reports of general officers favoring the restoration of the canteen are given.

New York, Nov. 26.—So great has been the rush of immigrants to this port within the last few days that the immigration station at Ellis Island was crowded Friday and several thousand steerage passengers were forced to remain Friday night on board the steamers on which they arrived from Europe. When the Baltic came in during the forenoon with a steerage list numbering 1,700, the officials of the station were informed that there was no room for them on the island. Five thousand immigrants already were crowded in the detention quarters while the normal handling capacity of the present force of inspectors is only 3,000. Under the circumstances they refused absolutely to handle the additional 1,700 brought in by the Baltic and the steamship officers were obliged to keep them on board under guard.

VISITED WORLD'S FAIR.

President and Party Spent Nine Hours on the Grounds.

Careful Precautions Were Taken By the Officers to Insure the Personal Safety of the Chief Magistrate of the Nation.

St. Louis, Nov. 28.—In sharp contrast with the strenuous experience of Saturday, when a hurricane effort was made to view the Louisiana Purchase exposition in nine hours, President Roosevelt's time Sunday was passed quietly and uneventfully.

Rest and recuperation from the fatigue of Saturday constituted Sunday; almost the sole idea of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt and their immediate party.

After a late family breakfast at the residence of William H. Thompson, treasurer of the Exposition Co., who entertained the President, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt, Secretary and Mrs. Loeb and Dr. P. M. Rixey, the president and party attended divine service at 11 o'clock in the Second Presbyterian church. It was known that the president would attend the morning service at this church.

Long before the hour of his arrival the streets in that vicinity were banked with people almost from curb to curb. The crowd was handled admirably, however, and gave the big force of police and secret service officers no trouble. A considerable crowd assembled also near the Thompson residence. As the President and Mrs. Roosevelt descended the steps of the residence to enter their carriage, the people respectfully uncovered, but there was no noisy demonstration. The silence on this day was appreciated by the president. Both he and Mrs. Roosevelt acknowledged the silent salutation of the crowd—the former by tipping his hat and the latter by bowing and smiling.

Careful precautions were taken by the officers to insure the personal safety of the president. Watchfulness was not relaxed for an instant. The president's carriage was surrounded by secret service officers and two picked sergeants of the Eighth United States cavalry rode, one on each side of the carriage, both going to and returning from the church. As the president's carriage stopped at the church entrance, the crowd could restrain its friendly feeling no longer. Hearty cheers were given for the president, which he acknowledged by tipping his hat. He was met at the entrance by the officers of the church, who escorted him and Mrs. Roosevelt and other members of the party to pews which had been reserved for them.

At the conclusion of the service Dr. Nicolls, the pastor, requested the congregation to remain seated while the president and his party retired from the church. The president was well on his way to the residence of Mr. Thompson, therefore, before the congregation had left the church.

After luncheon the President and Mrs. Roosevelt received informally a few personal friends who called merely to pay their respects. The president also greeted one of his former comrades in the Rough Riders, Private Schroeder, of Muskogee, I. T., who is now connected with the Indian police of the territory. He had come to St. Louis expressly to see the president. At 4 o'clock the party went for an extended drive.

On his return trip the president was followed by a procession containing more than 200 vehicles.

Sunday night the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt, Secretary and Mrs. Loeb, Dr. Rixey and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were entertained at dinner at 8 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. Francis at their residence. After the dinner the president and party returned to the Thompson residence. At 10:15 they left in carriages for the exposition grounds, where their special train has been held awaiting their departure for Washington.

The special train carrying President Roosevelt and party left the World's fair grounds at 12:01 Monday morning on its way to Washington.

He was taken to a local hospital and while the physicians were dressing his wounds it was developed that he and Sullivan had run away from their homes in Buffalo.
